Joe this is actually for the generic Hycodan liquid (hence the /HO in the description) and the quantity of 8041 is divisible by 473 for exactly 17 bottles...

Renee replied that she has had a ton of scripts for this and a lot of owes due to cough/cold season and this is a particular choice of syrup for a prescriber there I believe... I don't have details, but assuming 8 ounces as a typical RX, that's only 34 scripts so not probably unreasonable at their volume

Todd,

Store 8 is flagging as having hit their threshold for total hydrocodone products. Can you please check to see if this is an anomaly or that the orders should be considered suspicious.

Please let me know.
Joe
